THIS LISTING

Sold by BDAS to Mainmade for USD $43,000
August 27, 2026

This 2019 Lincoln Navigator is a Black Label 4×4 that is powered by a twin-turbocharged 3.5-liter V6 rated at 450 horsepower. Finished in Rhapsody Blue Metallic over Alpine Venetian leather, it features a Panoramic Vista Roof, a 360-degree camera system, adaptive suspension, 22" wheels, and power-retractable running boards. Its interior has a head-up display, tri-zone automatic climate control, a Revel Ultima sound system, adaptive cruise control, a power-folding third row, heated second-row captain's chairs, and heated, ventilated, massaging front seats. The vehicle was registered in Georgia and Texas before it was acquired by the selling dealer, and it has 23k miles. This fourth-generation Navigator is offered by the selling dealer in Indiana with a window sticker copy, owner's manuals, two keys, and a clean Texas title.

The aluminum bodywork is finished in Rhapsody Blue Metallic (N5), and the truck has a Panoramic Vista Roof, LED headlights, power-retractable running boards, a grille-mounted illuminated Lincoln logo, roof rails with cross bars, a power-operated rear liftgate, and twin exhaust outlets. Damage to the left side is listed in a June 2025 entry on the Carfax report, and paint-meter readings indicate the left doors have been refinished.

The truck rides on an adaptive suspension system, and factory equipment included Electronic Traction Assist, Hill Descent Control, and AdvanceTrac with Roll Stability Control. Brake pads and the brake fluid were changed in April 2026, per the Carfax report.

The interior's Chalet theme specified Alpine Venetian leather with Silverwood trim, and the cabin has heated second-row captain's chairs, power folding third-row seats, tri-zone automatic climate control, a 20-speaker Revel Ultima sound system, SYNC3 infotainment with navigation and phone integration, and heated, ventilated, massaging front seats. Two areas of lifted leather are noted on the dashboard.

The steering wheel is heated, and the driver is provided with paddle shifters, a power-adjustable steering column, a head-up display, a 360-degree camera system, and adaptive cruise control. Additional driving aids include blind-spot detection, cross-traffic alert, and forward and reverse-sensing systems. The odometer on the configurable digital instrument cluster has 23k miles.

The twin-turbocharged 3.5-liter V6 was shared with the contemporary Ford F-150 Raptor. When configured for use in the Navigator, it was factory rated at 450 horsepower and 510 lb-ft of torque. An oil change was completed in April 2026, and the battery was serviced.

@jpeck2 thank you so much for the tips/advice and experience sharing on these dog-gone Cam Phasers! To clarify; AFTER 2021 those aren't as much of a Problem any longer in the Eco-Boost V-6 engines??? (I have a '23 Navi and TRY to be religious on my Oil & Filter changes as well but you never know!)

Good Afternoon, BaT Community!

Today is the day, 3:57pm EST is the time! This absolutely stunning 2019 Lincoln Navigator Black Label will cross the finish line! Set your alarms – you're not going to want to miss this one.

We appreciate all the comments, bids, and interest! We'd also like to thank all the bidder so far: @Lavecchia, @Sharkyrob, @jpeck2, @stephenstein, @Ldcleve... Best of Luck in the final hours!!

A few things to mention as this auction winds down – We're happy to assist with shipping and can offer excellent rates. Don't let the high shipping quotes scare you, we can get the job done quite a bit cheaper. For more details, please reach out through the "Contact Seller" button. If you're considering a fly-and-drive, we can also arrange pickup from Fort Wayne Airport. Also, the new owner will receive a complementary 45-day Indiana temporary tag.

Bid with confidence! This one-owner, special-ordered example has been exceptionally well maintained throughout its life. The stunning Rhapsody Blue Metallic paint is a serious head-turner and truly sets this Navigator apart from the typical white or black examples. With only 23,000 miles, this Gator is turnkey and ready for the new owner to enjoy! If you're looking for a low-mile, highly optioned luxury SUV that stands out from the crowd, this would be the one you're looking for!

Please feel free to reach out with any last-minute questions. Thanks, Good Luck, and Happy Bidding! -Brian Hey @joeymartin46142 & @jpeck2! I understand the concern, but with only 23k miles, I honestly don't see this being an issue for tens of thousands of miles down the road. We buy, sell, and service EcoBoost vehicles on a weekly basis, and in our experience the majority of cam phaser issues occur closer to 100k plus miles – especially when they are highly maintained.

We do offer extended service plans through AUL. We have been selling these plans for over 20 years. They are a great company, and our service centers deal with them on a weekly basis. You can get coverage for up to 5 years/75k miles, which will cover the cam phasers. Please let me know if you'd like more information.

Thank you for your bids & interest!

I had Endurance and they didn't fight me on it. Without insurance covering it the cost was north of $4,000. It is lousy that Ford hasn't stood behind this, but they haven't and won't. Just make sure whatever warranty you are looking at does not exclude the cam phasers. All, in my limited experience, the warranty offered by BaT is not great...

@jpeck2 what warranty company did you use for this? I know some are better than other and assume it's going to be a 3rd party warranty this far out of original manufacturer warranty. Did you happen to see the cost of the cam phaser issue? I wonder what it cost if you had to pay it @bringatrailer.com I accidentally flagged @jpeck2's recent comment as unconstructive. I have no idea how to undo this (apologies jpeck2). Could you please help.

I can comment a bit on the cam phaser issue as I had both a 2013 F-150 Platinum and a 2019 Raptor that had these issues. I am RELIGIOUS about my vehicle service, oil changes, etc. Still, my 2013 had to have the cam phasers replaced twice on my 2013 (which was unreal) and once on my 2019, both before 100k. In my experience and from everything I have read, there is no true way to avoid this. After my 2013, I had a warranty on the Raptor and pushed the expense onto the warranty company. If I am the high bidder here, that is my plan as well. It's an expense with these prior to 2021.

Hey @Tomlong100, I spoke with a service writer from Planet Lincoln, Dallas, TX. They said this Gator has not had any history of Cam Phaser issues. They also told me it was extremely well maintained with all scheduled services performed throughout its life. Also, oil/filter change intervals were averaged every 4,300 miles. Changing the oil every 5k miles can greatly prolong the cam phasers lifespan. We do offer extended service contracts as well.

I hope this helps – thanks again for your interest!
